Freddie Fire Safety Curriculum Student Activity Books Available!

The South Carolina State Fire Marshal's Office acknowledges the importance of educating children about fire prevention and survival and is committed to revitalizing the "Freddie" Fire Safety Curriculum to help accomplish this effort. Student activity books will be provided in limited quantity to assist local fire departments with the "Freddie" Fire Safety Curriculum implementation into the schools they serve. Student materials for those schools will be made available to fire departments agreeing to provide the following:

- Coordinate with schools to determine number of students per class and order materials from the Office of State Fire Marshal
- Distribute student workbooks to schools
- Offer assistance with program delivery
- Collect and return curriculum evaluations

The "Freddie" curriculum is a comprehensive fire safety curriculum developed to teach children in kindergarten through fifth grades important fire prevention and survival skills. The series consists of three curricula, one for kindergarten and first grades, one for second and third grades, and another for fourth and fifth grades. Participating students learn positive fire safety behaviors that will extend into adulthood and has already been accredited with saving many lives!

Each curriculum contains six lesson plans. Pre-and Post Tests, along with teacher evaluations are also a part of the curriculum administration. The teacher curriculum has been made available in CD format to all elementary school media centers and is available for downloading at:
